

JAPANESE WIN NEAR FUCHOU

Overwhelm the Russians Who Lose a Thousand
Men and Leave Guns on the Field.

SQUADRON MAKES A DARING RAID

Vladivostok Comes Out From That Harbor and Goes as Far South as the Straits of Korea-- Captures Transports.

[Special by Scripps-McLae.]
Rome, June 16.—A telegram from Tokyo reports the Russian squadron, including the cruiser Novik, have destroyed all the Japanese preparations for landing troops and stores near Wang Tung and for an attack on Port Arthur from the east.

Russian Loss
London, June 16.—A Tokyo correspondent of Reuters says in a fight at Telissa, near Fou Chow the Russians lost five hundred killed and three hundred taken prisoners. They also lost fourteen guns. The Japanese casualties are placed at a thousand.

More Reports
St. Petersburg, June 16.—An official dispatch received today states the fighting at Vafangow continues. The Russian losses on June 14th were two generals wounded; twenty officers and three hundred men killed and wounded. Heavy Japanese reinforcements are now up.

Capture Vessels
London, June 16.—The Tokyo correspondent of Reuters sends a report that three Russian warships which were engaged with Japanese vessels off the island of Tsushima on Tuesday and Wednesday were captured by Admiral Makimura.

Russia's Sea Power
Nagasaki, June 16.—News has been received here of a terrific battle raging in the Korean straits off Tsushima.

Three Russian cruisers, thought to be the Kossia, Grombol and Rurik of the Vladivostok squadron, are reported to have been seen racing through the Korean straits, bound north, pursued by four Japanese cruisers of Togo's fleet, when their escape was cut off by three other Japanese vessels coming from the north.

The Russians at once opened fire on the vessels which barred their way, but although their fire was accurate, that of the Japanese was the more destructive and worked havoc with upper works of the Russian ships. Still the latter stuck doggedly through the barrier and evading their enemy and one of them did succeed in breaking through the Japanese line but seeing her sister ships hemmed in by the enemy, gallantly returned to the attack.

Pursuers Join in the Attack
By this time the pursuing fleet had come upon the scene and joined in the attack upon the Russians. The latter, however, in spite of the overwhelming odds against them, kept up a steady fire, taking advantage of the fact that the Japanese vessels, owing to the rough sea, were unable to maintain a simultaneous fire, the opposing squadrons being so close together that it is cross fire of the Japanese endangered their own vessels.

According to the story of an eyewitness, just before the smoke of the cannonading became so dense that it was impossible to distinguish any objects at a distance, one of the Russian ships slipped through the line in the direction from which she had come, but her movements were so slow that she was speedily overtaken and surrounded.

The news of the fight was received here with the greatest enthusiasm, and the fast Russian cruisers which have so long terrorized and menaced the Japanese coasts are now believed to have been completely destroyed and Russia deprived of her last hope of regaining her lost sea power.

Confirmation at London
London, June 16.—The Shanghai correspondent of the London Morning Post confirms the dispatch received yesterday by the Central News that the Russian Siberian squadron which is fighting from Vladivostok is fighting for its existence. He states that the naval battle is taking place off Tsushima and that nothing is known of the result.

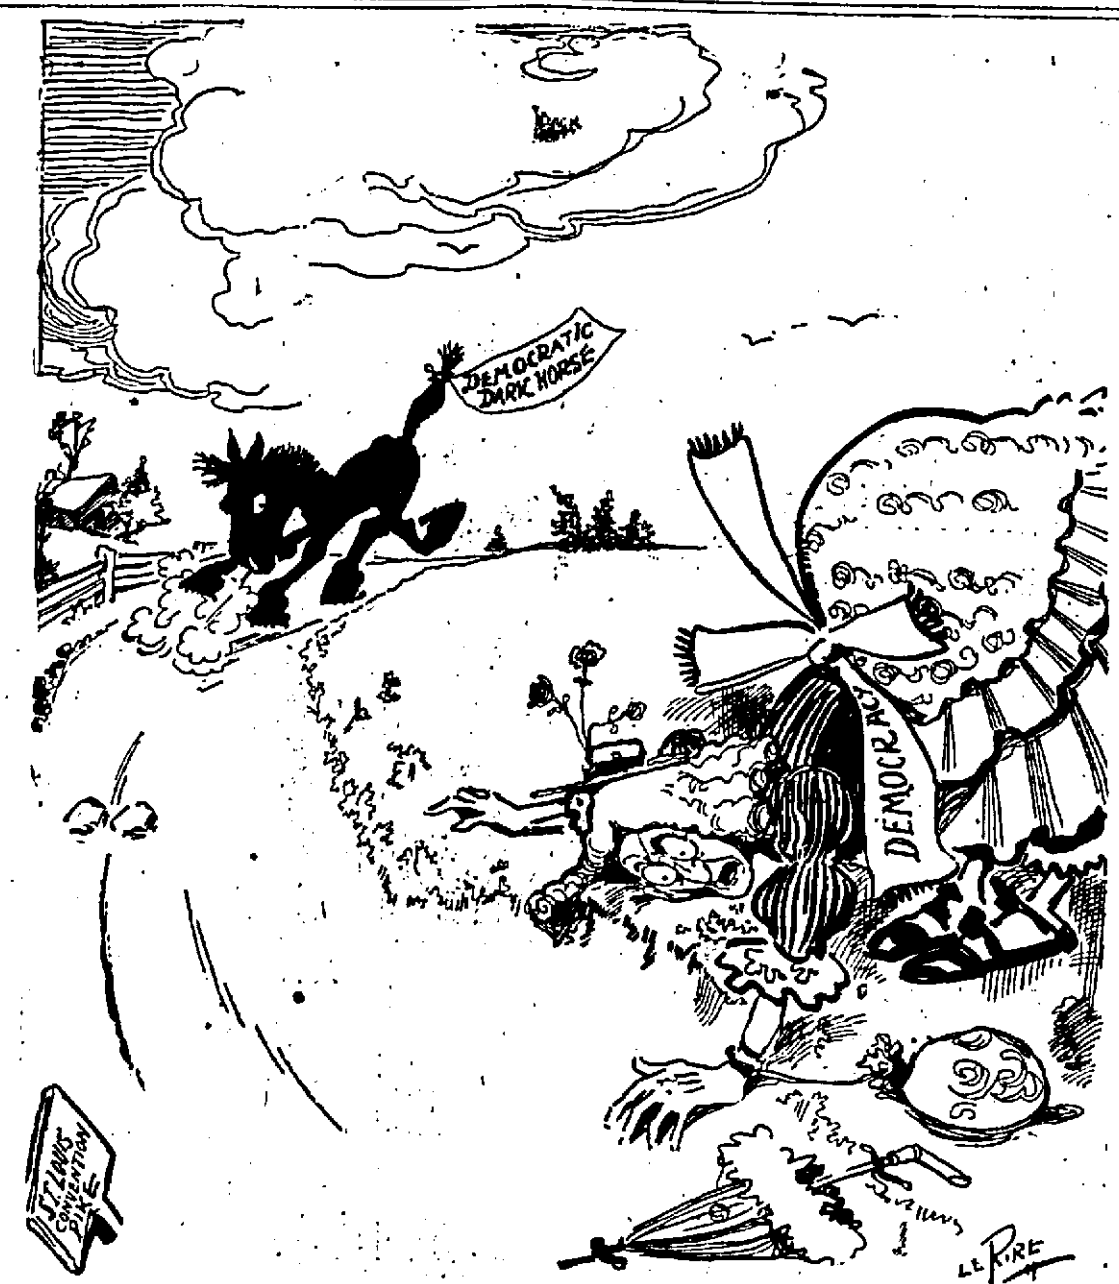

Russians Attack Transports
Tokyo, June 16.—Three Japanese transports, outward bound from Shimonoseki, met the Russian warships this morning outside the straits of Korea. The Russians fired eighteen shots at the Japanese ships. One transport escaped. The fate of the other two is not known. It is believed at Sasebo that a naval engagement is imminent.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—A rumor which has been traced to highly authentic sources carries the startling news that the Vladivostok fleet has eluded Admiral Kamimura's blockaders and joined Witsoeff's fleet at Port Arthur, which had been notified by wireless telegraphy that Admiral Skrydloff had left Vladivostok with the Rurik, Rossia and Grombol.

The report goes on to say that Witsoeff was instructed to make every effort to get out of the harbor, even at the risk of losing some of his vessels, and join Skrydloff at the appointed time. These orders, it is said, were carried out under cover of darkness, and the two fleets met at the entrance of the Korean straits. They are now said to be on their way to the Red sea, in accordance with the orders given Admiral Skrydloff, which direct the latter to lead the two squadrons to the Red sea, where they make take advantage of the secret coaling station established at the beginning of the war on the island of Djibouti and there await the arrival of the Baltic fleet, which is said to have started and was reported to have been sighted off the coast of Norway.

Mass Land and Sea Forces
The object of this movement of the fleets is said to be carrying out by the navy of the same plan that Kuropatkin has advocated in land operations, that is withdrawing his forces to some safe place and their await reinforcements and strengthening and reorganizing his forces, finally moving against the enemy in such overwhelming force as to preclude any possibility of successful resistance. It is stated that the naval force which will finally be dispatched to the far east be further strengthened by the addition of the Black Sea fleet, negotiations to that end having been entered into with the European powers who have hitherto objected to the opening of the Dardanelles to Russia. These negotiations have, it is said, been almost completed, and it is confidently predicted that the combined fleet will very soon be on its way to the east.

Opposed to this encouraging outlook in Russian naval operations comes the report of a Japanese victory on the Liau Tung peninsula to the north of Port Arthur. The details of this arrangement are said to have been heavy. The force involved is believed to be Stachelberg's relief column, which is endeavoring to raise the siege of Port Arthur.

WOODMAN MAKES CLEAR ACCOUNT

Explains the Reason Why the Imperial Band Was Not Hired by the Camp.

To the Editor: The enclosed clipping appeared in the Recorder on June 1:

The Modern Woodmen go to Madison today headed by a half way band from Milton Junction simply because the price was $30.

While the Florence Camp, No. 366, M. W. A., has nothing to say about the rest of the article they do dispute most emphatically that they have not supported the Imperial band and that they took the Milton Junction Cornet band because the price was $30. These are the facts: A committee was appointed to see about getting a band to go with us to Madison on June 1st. The sentiment of the camp was in favor of the Imperial band. The committee went to see what they would go for. A price list was shown which read: All day, $3 a day per man, and below that Woodman's day, 4th of July and Labor day was $1. While the committee would have liked to have hired our home band they did not think the camp would stand that sort of a deal so they wrote to several bands. The only one that answered and gave their price was the Milton Junction Cornet band.

They made their report to the camp. One of the members of the Imperial band was at the meeting; he was asked, "Why the Woodmen were picked out and charged a special rate so much above other societies?" He answered: "I was not on the committee which made up this price list and do not know the reason."

Now, Mr. Editor, I have not written this to stir up any controversy but to give the Woodmen's reasons for going out of town for a band. They wanted to hire our home band and would if they had thought they were not being charged one-third more than the home band would have done the same work for other societies.

DEAD NUMBER IN HUNDREDS

One Estimate Places the Loss on the Slocum at Over a Thousand Persons.

SEARCHERS STILL FINDING BODIES

The Awful Horror Has Paralyzed Lower New York-- Babies' Bodies Picked Up by the Boat Load.

[Special by Scripps-McLae.]
New York, June 16.—Long Island sound is covered with a thick mist this morning which has settled over the wreck of the ill-fated Slocum. The upper part of the paddle box, two smokestacks, a scorched flag staff and bent iron work are all that remains above the water. Five hundred bodies were recovered up to 9:30, every half hour adding ten or more to the list. It is known nearly fifteen hundred were aboard when the boat left the pier. Less than five hundred are accounted for at hospitals or in homes. The others are dead. Of the bodies recovered a hundred and a few odd are identified. Health Commissioner Darlington says the victims number at least a thousand, and probably more. Divers are taking the bodies from the sunken steamer and the boatmen are scouring the sound in every direction. District Attorney Jerome has engaged Fire Marshal Freid to assist him in making an investigation as to the cause of the accident.

Capt. Van Shuik of the steamer and five of his crew have been arrested. There are stories of rotten life preservers and of life preservers out of reach; of the failure of the crew to fight the fire, and of the captain's mistake in not heading for the nearest land; but few know exactly what happened in that terrible scene of suffering and death, for many of the survivors are practically insane, and hundreds of others are in the hospitals.

Cast Babies Overboard.
It was a spectacle of horror beyond words to express—a great vessel all in flames, sweeping forward in the sunlight, within sight of the crowded city, while her helpless, screaming hundreds were roasted alive or swallowed up in the waves—women and children with their hair and clothing on fire—crazed mothers casting their babies overboard or leaping with them to certain death; wailing children and old men trampled under foot or crowded over into the water—and the burning steambent, her whistle roaring for assistance, speeding on for the shore of North Brother Island, with a trail of ghastly faces and clutching hands in the tide behind her—gray-haired mothers and tender infants going down to death together.

Sunday School Excursion.
It is the season of Sunday school excursions in New York bay and Long Island sound, the latter one of the most picturesque bodies of water in the country. Great preparations had been made for the seventeenth annual excursion of the Sunday school of St. Mark's German Lutheran church, the congregation of which is drawn from the dense population of the lower East and West sides, and the General Slocum had been chartered to carry the excursionists to Locust Grove, one of the many resorts on Long Island sound.

The scene on the decks of the steamer as she proceeded up the East river was one of merry-making, customary on such occasions. The mass of flags fluttered in the June breezes, the bands were playing and the children were singing, dancing and waving handkerchiefs and flags in answer to the salutations of those on shore or from passing steamers.

Due to Overturned Grease Pot.
At the extreme eastern end of Randall's Island, off 156th street, there is a stretch of water known as the Sunken Meadows. At this point, just as the crowds were watching the gayly decorated steamer from shore, the General Slocum took fire, and the appalling catastrophe followed. The cause of the fire is given as the overturning of a pot of boiling grease in the kitchen.

NORCROSS CHOSEN THE LEADER OF STATE G. A. R.

Political Fight Failed to Bring About the Defeat of the Janesville Man--
Will Be Met at Train.

Captain Pliny Norcross had a hundred and fifty votes to spare in the election of the department commander of the Wisconsin G. A. R. held in Madison this morning. Telephone and telegraphic messages from Madison show that Capt. Norcross was almost the unanimous choice of the old soldiers for their commander. The first word came from Col. Kimberley who telephoned immediately after the first man from the state university to enlist in the war for the union. It was on April 16, 1861, that Capt. Norcross, then a freshman at the university, joined the Governor's Guards at Madison in response to the call of President Lincoln for 75,000 troops to serve three months. With the organization of the 1st Wisconsin Infantry the Guards became Company K and were commanded by Capt. Lucius Fairchild. The regiment saw no fighting save at the battle of Falling Waters. Mr. Norcross returned to the university in the early fall but soon thereafter went to Milton and there raised the company known in the war records as Company K, 13th Wisconsin Infantry, of which he was elected captain. He served until his enlistment expired in November, 1864.

Opposition
The opposition to Captain Norcross' election seemed to all come from the administration and from the fact he was the republican nominee for the assembly in a conservative republican district. A Madison dispatch last evening explains the situation:

Emissaries of the administration were at work among the delegates of the Grand Army business meeting at the encampment and great efforts were put forth to defeat Captain Pliny Norcross for the election as department commander. The argument made was this: "Captain Norcross is a nice man and a good soldier, but we want a man for department commander who will have influence with the legislature, solely for our interest and who is not bound hand and foot in factionalism. If Norcross is elected, he will get no favors from the administration members of the legislature, and the stalwarts cannot control legislation. Duncan McGregor has no factionalism in his candidacy and he will be of the greatest help to us in the legislature."

This story, variously phrased, was passed out continuously Wednesday night among the veterans and appeared in some groups to be effective. However, many of the old "boys" regarded the entrance of the administration into the friendly campaign for department commander and the ballots showed their independence of feeling.

Honor to Janesville
Captain Norcross' election is an honor to Janesville and to the W. H. Sargent post. It was brought about by the persistent efforts of the old soldiers of this city and Beloit who joined together to honor their commander and post. Captain Norcross was an officer in the famous Thirtieth regiment. Capt. Pliny Norcross was the first man from Rock county and

BRIDE DID NOT KNOW ENGLISH

And Norwegian Minister Was Not to Be Found When Stoughton Couple Arrived Here Today.

Another couple who wished to be joined in the holy bonds of matrimony had trouble in Janesville this morning. Nels Fortum and Johanne Berz of Stoughton arrived in the city fortified with a marriage license secured at Madison. As the intended bride did not understand English the trip was made to this city in order to have a Norwegian minister perform the ceremony. Upon arriving here, however, it was found that the man upon whom their calculations were based was not in town. But at er coming this distance they were not to be fooled and they repaired to the office of Justice Reeder where the dilemma was explained. Inasmuch as the bride-to-be as well as the groom had both been married before the former was more or less familiar with the obligations and she was able to catch the drift of ceremonial and answer "yes" at the right junctures. The knot was duly tied and the couple departed smilingly. The bride is 36 and the husband thirty-eight.

A Large Congregation.—The funeral of Miss Armstrong was quite largely attended this afternoon at the Congregational church, Rev. Mr. Thompson of the Presbyterian church officiating. The house was packed to its utmost capacity by an appreciating audience, who had assembled to pay their last sad tribute of respect to their departed friend.

The Price of Cotton.—In our market column will be found quoted the price of cotton goods in the Chicago markets. With the raw material at 127 and 130 cents per pound the high price of cotton goods will not be wondered at, when it is understood that cotton at 85 cents per pound it costs 41 cents to make a yard of standard sheeting, and at 10 cents, 34 cents for a yard of Merriam print.

here today has been one of the most numerous attended by all odds, ever held in this state. Over 700 names were registered and many came into town by private conveyances who were not reported. Festival Last Night.—The festival at the Hyatt, house last night, for the benefit of the Soldiers' Aid society was a grand success in every particular. Both the company and the receipts, which is the main thing after all, were all that could be desired. The gross receipts from all sources amounted to $311 which will leave something like $200 net—a very handsome addition to the treasury of the society. Much of the success of the entertainment is doubtless due to the ladies of the Presbyterian society, who had made complete and liberal arrangements to hold a festival last evening for their own benefit, but owing to a providential and afflictive dispensation they generously transferred their extensive preparations to the hands of the Soldiers' Aid society. As they contemplated holding such a festival sometime next week, we hope the generous public will not forget these ladies have been burdened with labor and trouble of two festivals while they realized the pecuniary profits of but one.

As You Like It

That is about the way The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York issues policies in these days of varied requirements in business and family life. Mr. Ebe Walter, of Clarksville, Del., writes:

The feature which I particularly like about my policy is that the longer I live the more I get and that during the balance of my life there is nothing more for me to pay.
(From Wilmington (Del.) News, Nov. 27, 1903.)

In writing for terms for a policy of this kind, state what you would like to receive in cash at the end of limited payment period.

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE

The Governor's Milwaukee organ asks the important question, "Is the Republican National Committee Stalwart?" and then devotes a column editorial space to discussing the proposition. The assumption is made that if the committee fails to recognize the Governor and his colleagues as the legally elected delegates at large, that the motive which prompts such action will be partisan and factional.

This covert attack on the National Committee in advance of any action in the Wisconsin case, is evidence of the desperation of the Governor's supporters, and an advance notice of what may be expected in case of defeat.

The following screed is the sort of rant of which the editorial is composed. The paper takes it for granted that the National Committee is "Stalwart" and says:

"This is the hope of the bolters. They talk about having their contest decided on its merits! It has no merits. There is not an honest and intelligent man in Wisconsin who knows anything of the facts of the election of delegates to our state convention, and the holding of the convention itself, but believes, whatever he says, that the supporters of Gov. La Follette had a majority of the delegates who were entitled to seats in the convention; but who believes that Gov. La Follette carried the state as fairly and as honestly as it ever was carried by any candidate for a state office.

And still their faction of bolters from that convention, bent only on the election of a Democrat for governor next November, are going to Chicago to try to get the national committee to recommend to the national convention that Spooner, Quarles, Babcock and Baensch be given seats in the convention to the exclusion of the four delegates who were elected by the regular convention. And they appear to believe that they will succeed. If they do, either in whole or in part, then the national committee and the national convention are stalwart, easy enough. It can be told in that way."

This is an insult to every intelligent republican in the state. The methods used to secure delegates to the Governor's convention during the pre-convention campaign, are as familiar as the plan adopted to seat them, and no amount of whitewash or bravado will secure the endorsement of public sentiment.

The Governor and his supporters are up against a hard proposition. They talk very glibly about "bolters and rumpers," but the test of loyalty is yet to come, and it remains to be seen how this test will be met.

The republican national committee is republican from top to bottom. It is the fairest tribunal in the land to deal with party questions. It knows nothing about "Stalwarts" or "half breeds," and whatever may be its decision, in the Wisconsin case, good judgment founded on justice, and not influenced by prejudice, will govern.

If the La Follette men are defeated, and then in a spirit of revenge organize to defeat the party in the state, there will no longer be any question about who the bolters are. Open rebellion against the decision of the national committee has no state boundary limits. It effects the national organization and will be dealt with accordingly.

There is no occasion for threats or insinuations at this stage of the game, but there will be plenty of time to exercise calm judgment and deliberate action when the campaign is launched.

THE MORTGAGE TAX LAW.

The late decision of the supreme court, on the mortgage tax law, makes clear the duty of the next legislature on this perplexing question. If the law is enforced, and the mandates of the Tax Commission carried out, but one result will follow, and that is double taxation to the man who borrows money on real estate.

The assessors are now instructed to assess all property at face value. If these instructions are carried out, and they are to large extent, it means that the man who owns a $5,000 equity in a $10,000 farm pays taxes on the full amount. He pays the tax not only on his equity, but on the equity represented by the mortgage so that real estate mortgages are already taxed.

If the new law is enforced, the man with the mortgage will also be taxed, and this is double taxation. The result will be an advance in the rate of interest, and this burden falls exclusively on the borrower.

Much of the money loaned in Wisconsin, as well as in other western states, is eastern capital. If the mortgage given as security is property, it is not Wisconsin property, and if it is subject to taxation it should be assessed in the state where it belongs. Wisconsin can not assume to assess New York property.

If the real estate owner is willing to pay taxes on the face value of his property, whether he owns it all, or has simply an equity in it, the state is already collecting taxes on this class of mortgages, and can well afford to be satisfied. The next legislature will realize the necessity of repealing a law which is a menace to the welfare of the state.

The argument used by the friends of Judge Parker as a candidate for president at the St. Louis convention is, that he is a silent man and non-committal on all public questions. This is a rare grace from a democratic standpoint, but Mr. Bryan may object.

California is likely to be represented in the president's official household. Congressman Motcalf, of the Pacific state, is said to be slated for the vacancy caused by the resignation of Secretary Knox.

The stainer disaster in Long Island Sound, adds another to the long list of disasters for which the new century is already noted. A coroner's jury will doubtless locate the blame but this is poor consolation.

The vessel owners won the strike on the lakes, and business is again resumed. There are too many idle men just now, and labor agitators will do well to go slow.

Orders from the Tax Commission to assess property on the bridge, would indicate that riparian rights represent more than a fictitious value.

Wisconsin is likely to be honored by the selection of Mayor Rone of Milwaukee to preside at the St. Louis convention. The democratic party might look farther and fare worse.

There will be a good opportunity for a dark horse in the St. Louis convention, and Cleveland may be the steel.

Mr. Bryan will go to the convention loaded. Unlike Judge Parker, he has been known to talk.

PRESS COMMENT.
 Racine Journal: Well informed correspondents think the business depression of the past few months has seen its worst and that things are on the mend.

New York World: One reason why a presidential campaign disturbs business is because business is generally very busy disturbing the campaign.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Probably the mob that lynched the wrong negro in Mississippi the other day is squared matters by apologizing handsomely to the victim's relatives.

Detroit Tribune: If President Hear had control of all the foodstuffs in Port Arthur just now he would be delighted with the prices "the traffic will bear."

Oshkosh Northwestern: If the Fourth of July could be celebrated as quietly as Ping day, what a relief it would be to people with sensitive nerves.

Sheboygan Journal: Instead of dams in Wisconsin fishing streams there ought to be submarine trolley lines to help the fish go up and down.

Omaha Herald: Well, soon we will know where we are at. The status of the two conventions will soon be determined, and one can then enter into the campaign with a fixedness of purpose.

Superior Telegram: The Chicago News says that some people think that leap year cuts no figure, but that just the same there are a lot of girls getting married this year that never got married before.

New York Globe: Despite the vogue of the health food, the number of beasts slain for food has never been so great as now. The butcher shops have been thronged, notwithstanding all done by the packing combine toward checking the demand. Vegetarianism has thus languished.

The old and oft-cited example that the Greeks who fought at Thermopylae and the athlete who won the Marathon race ate only lentils have lost their potency through too great familiarity.

Superior Leader-Clarion: Probably never in the history of this country were things in a more critical condition than they are in right now. Probably never before was there such deep-seated feeling of unrest, and probably never before was statesmanship so much in demand.

Milwaukee News: The Springfield Republican's discovery that Governor La Follette is leading the "poorer classes of Republicans" ought to make Uncle Ike Stephenson, Senator Stout and Chairman Connors feel poor enough to drop a penny in the hat the next time they go to meetin'.

Madison Journal: Raymond, the correspondent, thinks that Roosevelt may lose Wisconsin, "unless the split among Republicans in this state is patched up in some way." There is no objection to a patchwork that shall entrench President Roosevelt, but it is very important for the business interests of the state and for the welfare of its official department, that La Folletteism be eliminated.

Waupaca Post: The new state central committee met at Milwaukee last week and outlined a very active campaign. Its members reported the outlook most encouraging, and while it is generally supposed that La Follette will run for governor in any event, it is not believed that his independent campaign will materially reduce the usual republican majority in the state.

Appleton Post: What a good friend of the Post and himself a leading and ardent churchman once wittily characterized as "the human side of the church," was well illustrated at Pittsburg last Sunday evening. An elder in the Presbyterian church there had previously called the pastor, Rev. Samuel P. Montgomery, a liar. The first opportunity the latter had to resent the imputation was after he had finished a sermon on "The Peacefulness of David." Sunday evening. Thereupon he stepped down from his pulpit and "tackled" the elder, knocking him down twice, and the last time rendering him senseless. The deacon, however, will probably have enough sense hereafter to restrain him from calling his preacher a liar, even if he is one.

CHILDREN OF MARY HELD LAWN SOCIAL

Young Ladies of St. Patrick's Church Entertained Friends at an Ice Cream Social Last Night.

Last evening the Children of Mary of St. Patrick's church gave an ice cream social on the lawn adjoining the residence of Dean E. M. McGinnity. About two hundred participants in the evening's festivities. The proceeds of last evening's social will go to swell the treasury of this society. Much credit is due to the young ladies who had the arrangements of the affair in charge. A neat sum was realized as a result of their efforts.

TEST WATERWORKS AT COUNTY FARM

The New System is Almost Completed—Good Sized Stream Thrown Over the Building.

Rock county's poor farm now has adequate fire and water protection. This is the decision of the building committee of the county board after their investigations at the county farm yesterday afternoon. The new water works system is complete or so nearly that a few hundred dollars more expense will make the building and outbuildings perfect as regards the fire protection. The new steel tank costing $3,200 and holding 50,000 gallons of water was filled yesterday and a hose attached to one of the new fire plugs enabled the volunteer firemen to throw a stream of water completely over the building. These plugs are all so arranged that in case of a general conflagration in which the city department might be called for aid, the city hose could easily be attached.

 London children become pale, anaemic and feeble, not in midsummer, but in February and March, owing to the long-continued exclusion of sunshine by the fog.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

Stop Runaway: Thomas Goodman captured a runaway horse this morning in front of the Corn Exchange. The horse was attached to a top buggy and belonged to William Kelly and was frightened in the vicinity of Hennings's brewery on North Franklin street and came down the street at a rapid gait without a bridle.

TOBACCO TALKS ON CONDITIONS

WHAT IS BEING DONE IN THIS LINE.

PLANTING HAS NOW BEGUN

All of the 1903 Crop is Reported as Having Been Sold Up to Date.

There has been moderate buying from country hands in the growing district, and buyers in the field assert that all the 1903 crop, except about 25 per cent has been bought up. The greater part of the land grown has been marketed and growers who have cashed tobacco are in a position to ask better prices or hold over the summer. There is a good demand for assorted lots, for which good prices can be obtained. Old leaf is in demand, and an unusually large purchase of 1901 and 1902 leaf has been made for a Philadelphia firm. The majority of the warehouses are still sorting and expect to have to continue operations for another four weeks. That there is no especial likelihood of a large proportion of farmers abandoning tobacco, for sugar beet, is made plain by a comparative statement recently drawn up of the approximate average yield and price of all the tobacco crops grown in Wisconsin for the past 25 years. The average yield, it appears, was 1,277 pounds per acre selling at 7 cents per pound. During this period the tobacco farmers of Wisconsin have made a clear profit of $3,000,000, or over $100 per acre annually.

There is but little to tell, the market remaining quiet with comparatively nothing doing. The plant beds are reported to be doing well, and the plants are further advanced than was expected a few weeks ago. The average sown is comparatively small, owing, of course, to the low prices, but this very fact is expected to bring about better quality in the leaf of the 1904 crop, with consequent higher prices. The general belief, anyway, is that prices have reached the low water limit. A few transactions have been put through in 1902 leaf.

Resetting is now fairly started, but except in the southern portion of New England, comparatively little tobacco has yet been put in the open. In Massachusetts the season is from eight to ten days late. The acreage is a little less than last year, but the ground is in rather better condition than at the corresponding period in 1903. In Connecticut the season is also late, but conditions are considered favorable. No recent sales of importance are reported, but almost the entire 1903 crop has passed out of first hands. The average price of tobacco is put at 8 cents for the 1903 crop, as against 11 cents for the 1902.

MANY VISITED AT EDGERTON SCHOOL.

Recent Graduates of the High School
Attend the Class Plays at Edgerton.

Several members of the senior class accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Crane attended the graduating exercises of the senior class at the Edgerton high school in return for a similar compliment paid them by a number from Edgerton. The program was a play entitled "The Great Hinderer" and called for a cast of characters of fourteen people, embracing many different classes of people. The part of "Madame Mirabella," proprietor of the great Hindoo secret, was ably taken by Louise Pomeroy. If there can be two stars, Rollin Marsden in the role of "Herr Von Vogelbein," a German music teacher, and Ernest Kauffman as "Rutherford Smythe," were the stars. It is interesting to know that one of the parts was creditably taken by James Saxby, who was at one time a member of the class of 1904 of the Bower city high school. The play was an excellent production and was staged by Miss Hargraves, the literature teacher who acted as a judge in the medal contest here last spring.

FAMOUS DOUGHERTY IGORRITES COMING

Will Be One of the Features of the None Such Bros. Circus—Scouring City for Recruits.

William Dougherty has filed an application with the None Such Brothers for permission to exhibit under canvas on July 4th a home-grown drove of Igorrites which it is said will in external appearance surpass the famous dock-eaters of the St. Louis exposition. Accompanied by Assistant manager Ward Stevens, Mr. Dougherty made a tour of the city this morning in search of recruits. Sausage manufacturers in the city will create a monster petition against allowing this feature in the parade.

HAVE MORE SALOONS THAN EVER BEFORE

Notwithstanding Fact That Renewals of Three Licenses Will Be Granted—$25,000 Tribute Last Year.

Adam Holt of the Railroad Hotel is the first to file with the city clerk his application for a saloon license and the accompanying check for $500. The licenses expire at midnight on the first Tuesday in July and a special or adjourned meeting of the city council will be held before that time to grant saloon privileges for the ensuing year. During the past year forty-seven saloons and three breweries have paid tribute amounting to $25,000. By reason of the resolution recently passed that no licenses should henceforth be granted to saloons west of the railroad tracks the plan of business of James Condon, Thomas Madden, and the late Peter Dolan are not likely to have their privileges renewed, though it was reported recently that a petition would be circulated to have the council rescind its action. However, Janesville is not likely to have fewer saloons this year than heretofore. The aggressive campaign which the Schlitz people of Milwaukee have been waging here to secure outlets for their products, renting stands which the local breweries have long controlled, will necessarily result in the latter seeking new locations. There are therefore likely to be more saloons in the city this next year than ever before.

FULL SIXTY-SEVEN FLOATS PROMISED

In the Big Fourth of July Proce-sion—Parade Committee Pleased with Response.

Most gratifying results of the preliminary canvass were reported by members of the parade committee, which has in charge that portion of the Fourth of July celebration, at the meeting last evening. Thirty-seven manufacturers and thirty merchants have agreed to furnish floats and take part in the carnival procession. Only five of the factories and possibly not that many will be unrepresented, and there are still ten merchants who have not been approached. Every indication seems to point to the greatest celebration in the history of Janesville.

Mother Goose Social, Sunday school children of the First Congregational church are all invited to a Mother Goose social to be given at the church commencing at half past seven o'clock tomorrow evening. Refreshments will be served and a delightful time for the young people is assured. A special invitation is extended to the members of the Boys' Club.

Preparing for Picnic. It is expected that from fifty to a hundred Janesville Odd Fellows and their wives will participate in the picnic at Rockford next week Thursday if the weather is propitious. From thirty to forty members of the Patriarchs Militant will go in uniform and there will be as many if not more that do not belong to the uniform rank who will go. The party will leave over the Interurban about nine o'clock in the morning. The parade starts at 1.00 p. m.

MARGARET COEN CALLED BY DEATH

Was a Young Lady Greatly Beloved, and Her Death is a Sad Blow to Family and Friends.

The death of Miss Margaret Anna Coen, which occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coen, 55 Fifth avenue, in this city last evening at 11:30 o'clock while not expect- ed, was sad news to her many friends. She had been afflicted with tuberculosis which gradually weakened her until relatives and friends gave up all hopes and realized that her death was but a matter of a short time.

Miss Margaret Anna Coen the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coen, was born July 31, 1881, in this city, where she has since resided; she was a faithful member of St. Mary's church choir, also a devout and fervent Catholic. Fully conscious to the last, hers was a beautiful life. Dis- tilled and gentle in manner, she won the love of old and young alike; but particular in the home circle where her death will be keenly felt. She leaves a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Coen, also four sisters, Mary, Agnes, Della, and Helen Coen, many relatives and a large circle of friends to mourn her death. Miss Coen was of a cheerful disposition, and had a large circle of intimate friends; she was probably as well known as any young lady in the city and had not an enemy in the world. Universal sorrow is expressed at her untimely death. The father, mother, sisters and all other relatives have the sympathy of all in their deep sorrow, for she was near and dear to each one individually—a companion to her mother and a guardian angel to them all. Deceased was truly one of nature's noble young women of a loving, kind and cheerful disposition, a daughter who lived for her family, for whom she sacrificed all, in a continual effort to make the home an ideal one. To her parents she was ever a source of comfort and positive enjoyment, ever watchful of their needs and was fully compensated in the realization of their ever wish and desire.

Miss Coen's funeral will be held Saturday morning at nine o'clock from St. Mary's church. Reverend Guebel will perform the last sad rites.

Mrs. Anna Cleary

Relatives in this city received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. Anna Cleary at Burlington, Iowa. Deceased will be remembered as Miss Anna Behrendt, formerly of this city, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Behrendt, who resided on North First street. For several months deceased has been in poor health, but the news of her death was a complete surprise to her many friends in this city. Mrs. Cleary was an exceptionally bright young woman, having at one time been employed in the advertising department of the Galesburg Mail for a number of years. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Behrendt, Mrs. A. Klenow, John, Edward and Frank Behrendt, are left to mourn her loss. Mrs. Anton Behrendt and son, Edward, left yesterday for Burlington, Iowa, where they will attend the funeral services today.

Carl E. Olsen

Carl E. Olsen died at his home at No. 5 Prospect avenue at 2:45 this morning. Mr. Olsen was 33 years of age. He had been in feeble health for some time, but was able to attend to his work until Monday when he was confined to the house. He lacked the vitality to rally and after a brief struggle death released him from suffering.

He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Olsen. The family have resided in Janesville for the past eleven years. Two sisters and one brother are also left to mourn. Announcement of the funeral will be made tomorrow.

DEEP INTEREST IN THE CONTEST

Free Trip to the World's Fair Being Seriously Discussed by Everyone.

Deep interest in the Gazette's free trip of a week at the St. Louis world's fair is developing as is shown by the number of contestants who have already received votes. In the large space on another page a list of twenty friends have signified by votes their intention of working for their success. The outing is well worth striving for and the candidate with the most persistence will land the prize. The premium in votes on new paid in advance subscriptions is large and a small amount of work each day among friends will do much toward swelling your list of votes. That week of solid enjoyment without worry, without cost, is of as much interest to the wives as to the men. An equal amount of work on the part of the energetic wife will add materially in securing the prize.

Conditions of the Contest.
The popularity of the candidate is to be determined by the number of votes cast for him.

Premiums.—In addition to the regular schedule, new subscriptions will secure premiums when paid in advance as follows:

One month paid in advance 100 votes.
Three months paid in advance 400 votes.
Six months paid in advance 1000 votes.
One year paid in advance 2500 votes.

Regular Schedule.—Both old and new subscribers who pay in advance and for all coupons will receive the same number of votes—that is for every cent paid in advance during this contest.

4 votes until midnight, July 2d.
3 votes until midnight, July 30th.
2 votes until 10:00 p. m., August 31st.

Vote for all coupons clipped from the Gazette and delivered at this office before 10:00 p. m., August 31st. We will be square with you and you must be square with us. No person will be allowed to stop his paper and send to another name at the same address, neither will he be allowed to stop one day and start the next to claim premiums offered. New subscriptions are those not on our books June 4th. The subscription price to the Daily Gazette by carrier is 50 cents per month, $1.25 three months in advance, $2.50 six months in advance, $5.00 one year in advance. By mail in the county, four months $1 in advance, six months $1.50 in advance, one year $3 in advance. By mail outside of county one year $1 in advance.

WHAT THE BARNUM SHOW REALLY IS

Charles W. Hayes, Representing the Circus, Talks of the Attraction.

On August 4th the Barnum & Bailey show will exhibit in Janesville. This is the date now definitely decided by the directors of this vast attraction. Charles W. Hayes, who precedes the show by several weeks, was in the city today making final arrangements and announcing the date. In speaking of the coming attraction Mr. Hayes said:

"In size and to its merits of exhibition it is the largest and most expensive amusement institution in the world. Home again from its five years' tour of Europe, where it was justly crowned, and where it won the applause of royalty and their sovereign people.

"This institution is transported on 92 cars running in four sections, and one can imagine the immensity of its size. During the long stay across the water, Mr. Bailey had a better opportunity than any other showman to secure acts and novelties to inaugurate his homecoming. Time does not permit for an elaborate description of all the acts and displays with this show. The most sensational and leading feature to be seen only with the Barnum & Bailey show is looping the loop. Everybody is familiar with looping the loop seen here with the Forepaugh-Sells show, but now another act on similar lines has been developed which makes the original act appear absurdly simple and tame. It is called "Looping the Gap," and is the invention of an Italian whose nerve and daring far exceeds his love of life. "Looping the Gap" is in some respects like looping the loop, the apparatus is similar with one exception. This exception, however, is the vital difference. In "Looping the Gap" the top half of the loop is cut away. The intrepid rider begins the journey around the loop and when one-fourth of the distance has been traversed he has attained the whirling motion necessary to hurl him through space in a circular orbit with absolutely nothing to support him but the air itself. He has been thrown upward and onward until the law of gravity overcomes the upward motion, but not the onward motion. The result is, that while he ceases going further upward and begins to fall he goes still farther onward until he is head downward and strikes the remaining one-fourth of the loop and completes his journey. The distance he travels through the air without any support whatever beyond that of propulsion and gravitation is some twenty-six feet. In other words, the rider, seated upon his wheel, is thrown together with his wheel in a somersault some twenty-three feet in diameter. It seems almost incredible that such a feat could be performed successfully. It is only by the very closest and latest calculation of velocity, momentum, weight and gravitation that the sensational result is made possible. It is easily understood that the slightest disarrangement of interference in the momentum by the movement of the rider upon his wheel, or countless minor details, might serve to divert the rider from his track, so that his skill and nerve are depended upon for the accurate guidance of the wheel, and should anything interfere with the minute accuracy with which all the elements of the performance are involved, the result to the reckless rider would be calamitous.

"The opening of the show is a revelation to the circus. Instead of the old time circus, a correct reproduction of the Durbar held in India some time ago, when the emperor was proclaimed emperor of India. It is given every detail as to the correctness of costume of the Indian chiefs and native soldiery, and to the British officers, trappings for the horses and for the twenty elephants, with their howdahs or elephant carriages, over 500 people take part in this spectacle alone.

"The parade, the longest and most expensive ever given by a traveling circus, and many gala colored and artistically carved tableaux wagons and chariots, headed by the big band chariot, drawn by forty bay horses, the largest team ever hitched and driven by one man.

The seating arrangement is something of a novelty, and also adds comfort for the patrons of this exhibition, never before known with a circus. Every purchaser of a ticket is entitled to a numbered seat with foot rest and back, and instead of the usual reserved seats found with other shows, this exhibition erects platforms, and attaches its opera chairs, giving one as much comfort as if he were in the theatre. Mr. Bailey has added many new animals to the largest menagerie in the world."

Three Great Western Manure Spreaders

IN substantiation of our claims regarding manure spreaders, isn't the fact that one man buys three Great Western Manure Spreaders a big point in favor of these goods? W. H. Howard of La Prairie now owns three of them and can tell you of their merits. We're rolling them out fast and should roll one out for you.

The Only Reason we mention Deering Mowers, Rakes & Deere Loaders

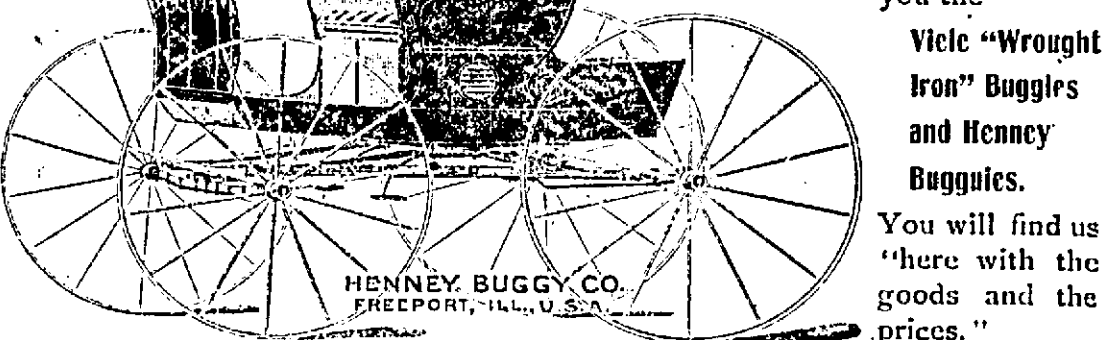

is to urge you to place your order at once. There is no need of telling why they are every farmer's choice, for every farmer knows why. We have never been able to get enough of these goods, so order early.

Corn needs your attention and there's no getting around the fact that each DEERE - TWO - ROW - CULTIVATOR saves one man and saves much money. One will pay for itself several times over.

The Carriage season is on full blast and we've been made to realize it. Twice this season have we been caught with every vehicle sold. Another carload just received however, and we want to show you the People are entering into the contest recently inaugurated by the Gazette for a Free Trip to the World's Fair, St. Louis, with considerable spirit. Votes have been coming to the office for candidates and there are a goodly number to the credit of the various contestants.

The prize is well worth an extra amount of hustle: A week's outing at the greatest Exposition ever attempted in any country, absolutely without cost and without the loss of time, including every convenience one could desire, is not an every day occurrence.

The premium in votes for new paid in advance subscriptions is large, and a little time spent each day in looking around for people not already subscribers will result in much good.

The wife of the most popular man, if he has one, goes to the Fair with him and she can do much toward securing the outing for both herself and her husband. The ladies are already doing considerable hustling and the result of their work will be a big factor.

The list of men given herewith is a popular one. Every man has many friends who will do their utmost to aid in securing for them the trip.

CONDITIONS OF THE CONTEST

The popularity of the candidate is to be determined by the number of votes cast for him.

Premiums.—In addition to the regular schedule, new subscriptions will secure premiums when paid in advance, as follows:

One month paid in advance, 100 votes.
Three months paid in advance, 400 votes.
Six months paid in advance, 1,000 votes.
One year paid in advance, 2,500 votes.

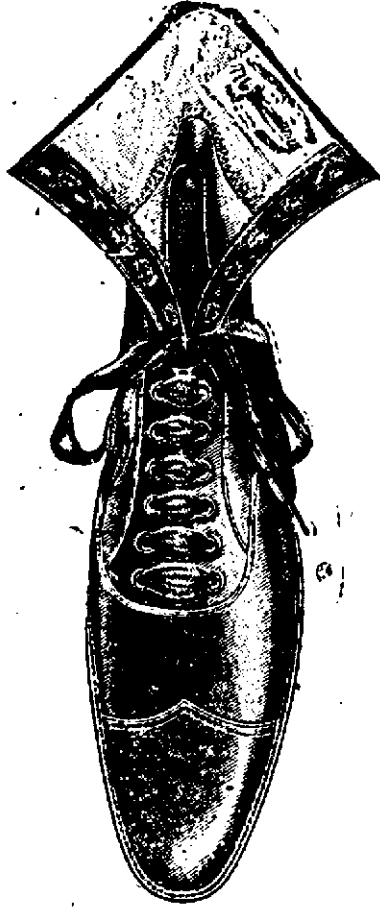

Regular Schedule.—Both old and new subscribers who pay in advance and for all coupons will receive the same number of votes—that is for every cent paid in advance during this contest:

4 votes until midnight July 2nd.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS FOR MINERS' LEADER

St. Louis Judge Orders Gov. Peabody and Adjt. Gen. Bell to Produce Moyer in Court.

St. Louis, Mo., June 16.--United States Circuit Judge A. M. Thayer, sitting in chambers has granted a writ of habeas corpus ordering that Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, be brought before him on July 5. The writ is directed against Gov. J. H. Peabody of Colorado, Adjt. Gen. Sherman Bell, and Buckley Wells. They are cited to appear with Moyer and show cause why he is being restrained of his liberty in the "pull pen" at Telluride, Colo.

The granting of this habeas corpus is the result of the war that has been going on between the miners' union and Colorado officials for several months. Attorneys Hawkins and Richards of Denver, Colo., arrived in St. Louis and went direct to the Federal building, where they laid the case before Judge Thayer.

At the conclusion of their arguments Judge Thayer granted the writ.
